

2017 Endowed Scholarship and Fellowship Descriptions

The Department of Architecture is pleased to offer a number of student scholarships and fellowships in 2017. Eligibility for these awards varies but many are based on financial need. To be considered for these scholarships, you must complete the FAFSA 2017-18 application. If you do not have a Social Security Number, please use the Special Need Assessment Form. Some scholarships (Morse, Seike, Sutton) require the submittal of an additional written statement. Other scholarships (Chinn, Fukui, Miller Hull) require the submission of a digital portfolio to be uploaded to the same catalyst box by the following deadline. See application form for complete instructions.

This completed application form, your most recent UW transcript and your personal statement, along with any other supporting materials required by specific scholarships are to be submitted to the Catalyst Dropbox: <https://catalyst.uw.edu/collectit/dropbox/manage/liarocci/39894> by noon on Tuesday, April 4, 2017

1. Norman "Bud" and Charlotte A. Aehle Scholarship

The purpose of this fund is to provide support for students in the College of Built Environments, particularly to make it possible for highly motivated students to complete their degrees.

Bud Aehle graduated from the UW in 1951 with a degree in architecture. He then had a very successful career as an architect, including, among many educational institutions, the design of the Green River Community College campus. His wife, Charlotte (now deceased), graduated from the University with an education and home economics degree in 1951, and taught for a number of years in Washington public schools.

- Eligibility: Undergraduate and graduate students
- Selection Criteria: Financial need and commitment to architecture as a profession
- Award amount (approximate): $4,000

2. Department of Architecture Faculty Endowed Scholarship

The purpose of this endowment is to provide financial assistance to students presently enrolled in the Department of Architecture.

- Eligibility: Undergraduate and graduate students
- Selection Criteria: Financial need; preference for participation in collegiate rowing; or active participation (1 year min. involvement) in the promotion of social or economic justice activities.
- Award amount (approximate): $2,000

3. Architecture General Scholarship

The purpose of this endowment is to provide general scholarship assistance to undergraduate and graduate students in the Department of Architecture.

- Eligibility: Undergraduate and Graduate students
- Award amount (approximate): $2,200

4. William T. Caine Memorial Fund

This fund is designated for the advancement of students in the hospital or healthcare facilities design field.

- Eligibility: Undergraduate and graduate students
- Selection Criteria: Research focus in the area of hospital or healthcare facility design
- Award amount (approximate): $2,000

5. L. Arnie Chinn Memorial Endowed Scholarship Fund

The purpose of this scholarship fund is to provide financial assistance to deserving undergraduate or graduate students in the Department of Architecture.

This fund is established in honor and memory of Arnie Chinn (Leslie Arnold Chinn), who was born in Seattle on December 31, 1953, the son of Les and Gladys Chinn. Arnie attended Franklin High School in Seattle and received his B.A. in Architecture and his B.S.A. in Fine Arts from the University of Washington, both in 1978.

Arnie Chinn began his career as a designer for the Seattle firm of Terry Draheim Associates. He also worked at Business Space Design, where his projects included the Seattle Repertory Theater's Bagley Wright Theater at the Seattle Center. After a period with Forma Design, he moved to New York City in 1982. He lived in London for nearly a year in 1983 before returning to New York and joining the firm of John Saladino. He established the New York office of Forma where he was Director of Design until founding his own design firm, L. Arnie Chinn Studio, in 1988.

Arnie died in New York City on March 8, 1994, at the age of 40. He loved the University of Washington and his profession, and the donors to the scholarship fund hope to provide financial assistance to students who share the passion he demonstrated for great design.

- Eligibility: Undergraduate and graduate students
- Selection Criteria: Academic merit, financial need, and performance in design as demonstrated by a portfolio containing not more than five examples of original design work
- Award amount (approximate): $6,000

6. Charles F. Clay / Northwest Wall and Ceiling Bureau Memorial Scholarship

This scholarship is awarded to full-time undergraduate students in the departments of Architecture and Construction Management who are U.S. citizens with demonstrated scholastic ability and financial need.

- Eligibility: Undergraduate students
- Selection Criteria: U.S. citizen; academic merit; and financial need.
- Award amount (approximate): $750

7. Mitsu and William O. Fukui Memorial Endowed Diversity Scholarship

The purpose of this scholarship is, to the extent legally possible, to provide assistance to graduate students in the Department of Architecture in the College of Built Environments who demonstrate design excellence, with a preference for students who are underrepresented minorities.

The donor, David H. Fukui, graduated from the University of Washington with a Bachelor of Architecture degree in 1964 and is a practicing architect in Seattle. David is grateful for the love and financial support of his parents, as well as for the patience they showed many times during his university years. He wishes to honor them by establishing the Mitsu and William O. Fukui Memorial Endowed Diversity Scholarship.

- Eligibility: Graduate students only
- Selection Criteria: Academic merit, financial need, and demonstration of design excellence, the latter of which shall be based on the submission of a portfolio containing not more than five examples of original design work. Preference shall be given to underrepresented minority students in accordance with University policies for awarding such scholarships.
- Award amount (approximate): $2,500

8. L. Jane Hastings Endowed Scholarship

The purpose of this scholarship is, to the extent legally possible, to provide assistance to undergraduate and graduate students in the Department of Architecture in the College of Built Environments, with a preference for female students.

L. Jane Hastings, a 1952 honors graduate of the Department of Architecture, award-winning architect, and Fellow of the American Institute of Architects (AIA), has in her long career established an exemplary record of service to her profession, to the University, and to the community at large. At a time when women were not generously welcomed either to the Department of Architecture or to the architectural profession, she overcame those barriers to win her Bachelor of Architecture degree in 1952 and the Alpha Rho Chi Leadership and Service Medal. By the time of her retirement in 2002, she had the oldest woman-owned architectural practice in Washington.

Jane's career is acknowledged by various awards, including her Matrix Table 1994 Woman of Achievement award, her AIA Seattle Medal in 1995, and listings in both Who's Who in America and Who's Who in the World. Surely Jane Hastings is an inspiration for those seeking entry to the profession of architecture, whether women or men, with a career whose spirit this scholarship and its donor seek to honor. Jane's own student experience, entirely self-supported, demonstrates the help that such a scholarship as this could offer. Its establisher is Professor Emeritus Norman J. Johnston, a retired member of the CBE faculty and Jane's husband.

- Eligibility: Undergraduate and graduate students
- Selection Criteria: Academic merit and financial need. Preference shall be given to female students in accordance with University policies for awarding such scholarships.
- Award amount (approximate): $1,500

9. Charles Winthrop Lea III Memorial Scholarship

The donors' primary desire in establishing this scholarship is the attainment of improved architectural design.

Charles Winthrop Lea III received his Bachelor of Architecture from the College in 1963 and, sadly, died in a car accident that same year. His parents immediately established a memorial scholarship in his name so that his "professional promise could be realized through the achievements of architecture students aided by this scholarship."

- Eligibility: Graduate students only
- Selection Criteria: Financial need and degree of professional promise
- Award amount (approximate): $5,000

10. Walter H. McAninch Endowed Scholarship

The purpose of this endowment is to provide assistance to undergraduate students in the Department of Architecture and was established by Myrene C. McAninch, Ph.D. in honor of her late husband, Walter H. McAninch.

- Eligibility: Undergraduate students only
- Selection Criteria: Academic merit and financial need.
- Award amount (approximate): $3,000

11. Minigan Family Endowed Award

The purpose of this endowment is to provide financial assistance to undergraduate students in the Department of Architecture, who participate in design/build programs based in the U.S. Examples of past and current programs in the Department of Architecture whose students qualified or would qualify for support from this endowment include the American Indian Housing Initiative through the UW BaSiC program; the Yakama Design/Build Program; the Howard S. Wright Neighborhood Design/Build Studio; and the HiPerPod: Zero Energy Classroom project.

Michael and Elizabeth Minigan chose to establish this award to provide architecture students with practical, hands-on learning experiences that help foster sustainable communities in our country.

- Eligibility: Undergraduate students only
- Selection Criteria: Academic merit and financial need
- Award amount (approximate): $1,000

12. John Morse Graduate Fellowship Endowment for International Travel

The purpose of this endowed fellowship is to support graduate student travel in pursuit of the study of international architecture and design concepts and/or the liberal studies of the art and literature of architecture. Fellowship recipients shall be required to give a public lecture upon completion of their studies to the Department of Architecture and the architectural community of Seattle. A reproducible copy of the text and illustrations shall be available for printing for public distribution at a cost reimbursable by the University through the endowment. Preference will be given to proposals for travel to study the architecture of developing countries, especially countries on the continent of Africa.

John Morse, a well-known Seattle architect who passed away in 2003, endowed this fellowship through a bequest from his estate.

- Eligibility: Graduate students
- Selection Criteria: Two-page proposal and budget for a travel-related research project
- Award amount (approximate): $5,000

13. Jeffrey Karl Ochsner and Sandra Lynn Perkins Endowed Fellowship in Architecture and Preservation

The purpose of this endowment is to provide support for financially needy and academically meritorious graduate students enrolled in the CBE Historic Preservation Certificate in the Department of Architecture.

- Eligibility: Graduate students only
- Selection Criteria: Academic merit and financial need
- Award amount (approximate): $750

14. Lionel H. Pries Endowed Fellowship in Pacific Northwest Architectural History

The purpose of this endowment is to provide financial assistance to graduate students in the Department of Architecture Master of Science in Architecture degree who are pursuing research topics in Pacific Northwest architectural history (specifically the states of Washington and/or Oregon, and Idaho, and the Province of British Columbia).

- Eligibility: Graduate students in the Master of Science in Architecture degree program
- Selection Criteria: Academic merit and financial need.
- Award amount (approximate): $750

15. Herman Pundt Memorial Endowed Fellowship

The purpose of this endowment is to provide support for financially needy and academically meritorious graduate students who participate in study-abroad programs or international exchange programs sponsored by the Department of Architecture in the College of Built Environments.

This gift is made to acknowledge the career of Professor Herman Pundt, a revered teacher and inspirational figure who served as a professor of architecture and art history at the University of Washington for 32 years.

- Eligibility: Graduate students only
- Selection Criteria: Academic merit and financial need
- Award amount (approximate): $3,300

16. Marga Rose Hancock Endowed Scholarship for Diversity

The purpose of this endowed scholarship is, to the extent legally possible, to provide financial awards to graduate students in the Department of Architecture at CBE, with a preference for underrepresented minority students.

AIA Seattle's Minority Membership Committee (also known as the Diversity Roundtable) established this fund to encourage and support participation in architecture by people from diverse ethnic, gender, and economic backgrounds and from other underrepresented groups. In 2007, past Presidents of AIA Seattle completed their effort to elevate the endowment to the endowed scholarship level, and renamed the fund in honor of Marga Rose Hancock Hon. AIA, recognizing her sustained and sustaining effort to support professional diversity in architecture.

- Eligibility: Graduate students only
- Selection Criteria: Academic merit and financial need. Preference shall be given to underrepresented minority students in accordance with University policies for awarding such scholarships.
- Award amount (approximate): $2,500

17. Kiyoshi Seike Endowed Fellowship

The purpose of this endowment is to provide support for financially needy and academically meritorious graduate students who are graduates of a United States high school or university who wish to engage in independent research travel and/or study-abroad in Japan. Preference is given to students who study the Japanese language. Applicants are required to submit a two-page proposal stating why they wish to travel to Japan and what they aim to accomplish there.

This gift was made to acknowledge Kiyoshi Seike (1918 – 2005), a professor of architecture at the Tokyo Institute of Technology from 1962-1979, and one of the first influential, post-World War II young Japanese architects. Professor Emeritus Philip Thiel of the UW's Department of Architecture established this endowed fellowship fund to honor his friend and colleague.

- Eligibility: Graduate students only
- Selection Criteria: Two-page proposal, academic merit and financial need
- Award amount (approximate): $2,000

18. Rolland A. Simpson Endowed Fund in Architecture

The purpose of this endowment is to provide financial assistance to undergraduate students in the College of Built Environments Department of Architecture.

Rolland “Rod” Simpson graduated from the UW with a degree in Architecture in 1939. He worked in architecture firms in Seattle, Anchorage, AK, and San Francisco. He returned to the Northwest in 1966 and established a practice in Leavenworth. He was a founding member of the Leavenworth Rotary, president and life member of the Leavenworth Chamber of Commerce, and served on the Chelan County Planning Commission and the City of Leavenworth Design Review Board. He was one of the three initial inductees in the Cashmere High School Hall of Fame. He assisted in the conversion of Leavenworth to Bavarian style design and was involved in the redesign of Cashmere’s commercial district to reflect early American design. This endowed scholarship fund was established by his widow, Anne L. Simpson, with contributions from friends and family.

- Eligibility: Undergraduate students only
- Selection Criteria: Academic merit and financial need
- Award amount (approximate): $4,000

19. Three-Sixty Fund Endowed Fellowship

The purpose of this endowment is to help financially needy and academically meritorious graduate students in the department of Architecture in the College of Built Environments fund the cost of attending the University of Washington. This endowment may fund required components of the cost of education at the university including all standard and reasonable educational expenses.

This gift is made to acknowledge the endless list of talented professors, teachers, and educational professionals who generously share their knowledge and expertise to inspire tomorrow’s gifted stewards of our built environment.

- Eligibility: Graduate students only
- Selection Criteria: Academic merit and financial need
- Award amount (approximate): $5,000

20. Robin M. Towne Endowed Scholarship

The purpose of this scholarship is to provide assistance to undergraduate students in the College of Built Environments.

Robin M. Towne received a Bachelor in Science in Mechanical Engineering from the University of Washington in 1946. Mr. Towne specialized in the area of architectural acoustics. Mr. Towne founded a mechanical engineering firm, Towne, Richards and Chaudiere, and served as president for 36 years. Mr. Towne was principal and project manager on over 6,700 projects including the design of building mechanical system noise and vibration control, architectural acoustics, industrial noise control, environmental noise, and machine condition monitoring.

Mr. Towne had a strong desire to see continued work and study in the field of architectural acoustics. He was a member of the faculty at the University of Washington for 13 years, lecturing in the area of architectural acoustics.

- Eligibility: Undergraduate students only
- Selection Criteria: Academic merit and financial need. In addition, the donor has a strong interest in providing financial assistance to undergraduate students who have an interest in the field of architectural acoustics and/or who plan to pursue an advanced degree in this field of study.
- Award amount (approximate): $3,500

21. Gerald A. Williams Memorial Endowed Fund

The purpose of this endowment is to reward/encourage excellence among students in the Department of Architecture, to act as an incentive to students for travel and study abroad or to publish outstanding research or creative works contributing to the design profession.

- Eligibility: Undergraduate and Graduate students
- Award amount (approximate): $2,000

22. Gerald A. Allison Memorial Scholarship

This award is comprised of memorial donations given in honor of Mr. Gerald (Jerry) L. Allison, President, International, of WATG Architects. Selection shall be based on academic merit and financial need.

- Eligibility: Undergraduate and Graduate students
- Selection Criteria: Academic merit and financial need
- Award amount (approximate): $250

23. Miller Hull Partnership Endowed Student Support Fund

The Miller Hull Partnership Endowed Student Support Fund purpose is to acknowledge, encourage, and reward design excellence in the Master of Architecture Program at the UW, with emphasis on the relationships between architecture, technology, and the environment. David Miller and Robert Hull founded the Miller Hull Partnership in Seattle in 1977 on the principles of innovative and authentic design, which share the common themes of simplicity and elegance. From their very earliest days, their work has been characterized by a deep relationship to site, region and environment, a rational formalism, and a unique ability to do more with less.

- Eligibility: Graduate students only
- Selection Criteria: Academic merit, financial need, and demonstrated design potential. Applicants must submit five examples of original design work as described on the Scholarship Application Form.
- Award amount (approximate): $2,000

24. MulvannyG2 Endowed Diversity Scholarship

The purpose of this endowment is to promote financial assistance to undergraduate and/or graduate students in the Department of Architecture in the College of Built Environments, with preference given to students from economically disadvantaged backgrounds, students who are the first in their family to go to college, students who have overcome personal or educational obstacles to go to college, and/or students with deep experience with diversity, or with diverse cultures. Originally founded in 1971 by Doug Mulvanny as Mulvanny Architects, the firm acquired G2 Architecture (founded by Gerry Geron) in 1999. With 90 registered architects and close to 350 employees worldwide, MulvannyG2 is the second largest retail design firm in the United States, is among the top ten largest architecture firms in the country, and is one of the few U.S. firms licensed in all 50 States .

- Eligibility: Undergraduate and Graduate students
- Award amount (approximate): $3,500

25. Roland Terry Endowment for International Travel

The purpose of this endowment is to provide financial assistance to undergraduate and graduate students in the Department of Architecture who have been selected to participate in study-abroad or international exchange programs or who wish to engage in independent international travel related to the study of architecture and design. The donor, Laura Lundgren, chose to establish this endowment in honor of her cousin, Roland Terry, a graduate of the UW (BArch.'40) and prominent figure in Northwest Modernist architecture. Roland Terry's design sensibility was greatly shaped by his overseas experiences- the city and rural landscapes he explored and the masterpiece buildings, art, and gardens he saw while travelling consistently inspired him. The endowment honors Mr. Terry's distinguished body of work and lasting contribution to Northwest architecture by providing the same source of inspiration to our world's future architects.

- Eligibility: Undergraduate and Graduate students
- Selection Criteria: Academic merit and financial need
- Award amount (approximate): $4,000

26. SRG Partnership Award

The purpose of this endowment is to provide support for financially needy and academically meritorious graduate students in the Department of Architecture. Preference shall be given to underrepresented minority students in accordance with University policies for awarding such scholarships.

- Eligibility: Undergraduate and Graduate students
- Selection Criteria: Academic merit and financial need.
- Award amount (approximate): $2,000

27. C. Harold Wirum Endowed Fund for Student Support in Architecture

The purpose of this endowment is to provide broad-based financial support to a student enrolled in Architecture with preference given to students who demonstrate an ability to overcome adversity to achieve their goals and show promise to represent the University well in the professions and communities in which they will serve and lead. An eligible student from Alaska should be given priority.

- Eligibility: Undergraduate and Graduate students
- Selection Criteria: Academic merit and financial need
- Award amount (approximate): $1,500

28. Jay Bee Memorial Scholarship

The purpose of this endowment is to provide support for financially needy and academically meritorious graduate students in the Department of Architecture. The award will be given to a student who has completed two years of study, with a preference for a female student who is unmarried in accordance with University policies for awarding such scholarships.

- Eligibility: Graduate students
- Selection Criteria: Academic merit and financial need.
- Award amount (approximate): $4,500

29. Ann McFarlane Stockton Endowed Scholarship Fund

For a full-time undergraduate student enrolled in the College of Built Environments who is a Washington state resident who has junior standing. Award is based on academic excellence.

- Eligibility: Undergraduate students
- Selection Criteria: Academic merit
- Award amount (approximate): $4,000

30. Sharon Egretta Sutton Endowed Architecture Fellowship

The purpose of this endowment is to recruit/retain graduate students whose experiences and work promote inclusion and social justice in the architectural profession with preference to support high achieving graduate students pursuing a Masters in architecture who demonstrate a commitment to improving living conditions in disadvantaged communities. Preference is also given to those that demonstrate commitment through the submission of a vision statement outlining career goals relative to the purpose of the award.

- Eligibility: Graduate students
- Selection Criteria: Academic merit and one page vision statement
- Award amount (approximate): $1,250
