SUMMARY STATEMENT

Boris’ designs have elevated an essential civic quality by synthesizing innovative experiential, programmatic, and sustainable aspects of architecture. His concern for healthier, inspiring environments is a major driver in his approach, including biophilic principles that bring the benefit of a relationship with nature. Boris’ work is consistently recognized with design awards on national and international levels.

2017 Seattle International Architecture Forum, Seattle, Washington
Panel moderator for a discussion on the experience of working in the international arena.

2016 A4LE LearningScapes Conference, Revolutions in Learning, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania
Lecture: "Cherry Crest Elementary"

As one of the 2016 James D. MacConnell Finalists, the lecture focuses on Cherry Crest Elementary and explores how a standard elementary school program combined with a unique site and an engaged community resulted in an exceptional learning environment.

KEY DESIGN POINTS EMPHASIZED IN PRESENTATION

■ Experiential Quality

■ Programmatic Innovations

■ Sustainable Design Strategies

2016 A4LE Webinar, (co-presented with Lauren Scranton, MA)
Webinar: “Get Out! Benefits and Opportunities of Outdoor Learning”

This educational webinar examines and challenges traditional teaching methods through each of these distinct lenses: the architect, the educational planner, and the teacher.

2016 “Louis Kahn: The Power of Architecture,” Bellevue Art Museum, Bellevue, Washington, (moderator)
Panel Discussion: “In the Pursuit of Architectural Essence—The Thought Process of Louis Kahn”

2015 Association for Learning Enviroments (A4LE formerly CEFPI), Washington Chapter Conference, Art and Culture: History, Community, Classroom, Marysville, Washington, (co-presented with Kyle McLeod and Tammy Jones)

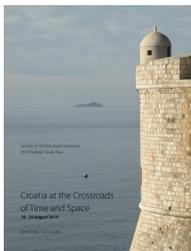

Lecture: “Interpreting Schools’ Community, History and Culture through Design”

This lecture focuses on how educational facilities are an essential component of building a successful relationship between school districts and their support communities. It examines responsiveness to community concerns on a variety of projects from the point of view of an educator, a school district representative and an architect.

2015 A4LE LearningScapes Conference, ‘Outside Out, Influences from the Outside,’ San Diego, California, (co-presented with Lauren Scranton and Christine Benita)
Lecture: “Get Out! Benefits and Opportunities of Outdoor Learning”

This lecture explores the benefits of taking teaching and learning beyond the traditional classroom and school site. This approach is examined through three distinct lenses: education, researcher, teacher and architect.

2014 Society of Architectural Historians (SAH) international study tour, Croatia, Montenegro, and Bosnia & Hercegovina, Europe
“Croatia at Crossroads of Time and Space”, professional tour leader, with title of the three lectures below.

The three lectures are a trilogy that present learning from historical environments in Croatia in influencing our design thinking today, outlining how the past can teach us about the experiential quality of architecture, a key point in Boris’ design philosophy.

- History of Dubrovnik – from a small refugee colony to the “Pearl of Adriatic”
- Layers of Civilizations – explanation of how layers of different times in 4 cities on the Adriatic coast influenced the contemporary school of architecture
- An Authentic School of Architecture – overview of formation and values of contemporary Croatian school of architecture

Oak Harbor School District

Significant Work: Projects

For projects listed to the right, Boris Srdar's role is Lead Designer unless otherwise noted.

Select projects include short description illustrating their wider reach and significance.

2010 Ardmore Elementary School, Replacement / Bellevue, Washington
Bellevue School District

The project elevated informal learning in a highly stimulating experiential setting, receiving top level national awards from AIA CAE and educational design magazines.

2009 Eastgate Elementary School, Replacement / Bellevue, Washington
Bellevue School District

2008 Little Cedars Elementary School, New / Snohomish, Washington
Snohomish School District

2008 Glacier Peak High School, New / Snohomish, Washington
Snohomish School District

2007 Wilson High School Phase 1, Modernization & Addition / Tacoma, Washington
Tacoma School District

A true harbinger, it employed displacement ventilation (integrated with comprehensive daylighting) as another option for sustainable school design. While this was a pioneering effort in Pacific Northwest and the West coast when designed in 2003/2004, it has become a mainstream design solution at this time with more than 30 schools employing this much healthier HVAC concept in the state of Washington alone.

2007 Carver Academic Remodel Pre-Design / Bellingham, Washington
Western Washington University

2006 Mount View Elementary School / Seattle, Washington
Highline Public Schools

2005 Lake Hills Elementary School, Replacement / Bellevue, Washington
Bellevue School District

2004 Cascade Middle School, Modernization & Addition / Longview, Washington
Longview School District

2004 Henry Moses Aquatic Center, New / Renton, Washington
City of Renton

2003 Giaudrone Middle School / Tacoma, Washington
Tacoma School District

This project was in the first generation of comprehensively daylit schools in the Washington State, which was also at the forefront nationwide. It was used by Seattle Lighting Lab for educational seminars focused on quality daylighting and school planning principles in 2002.
