

BLOOM

AIAS x SEATTLE 2024

SPONSORSHIP PACKET

CONTENT

CONFERENCE OVERVIEW

What is BLOOM: Emerging Solutions for Urban Sustainability about?

SCHEDULE

Overview of keynote speakers, firm tours, and events

ATTENDEE PROFILES

An overview of conference-goers. Where are they from?

ORGANIZERS

Meet the team. A conference by students, for students.

WHY SPONSOR?

Our partners, our reach, and sponsorship tiers.

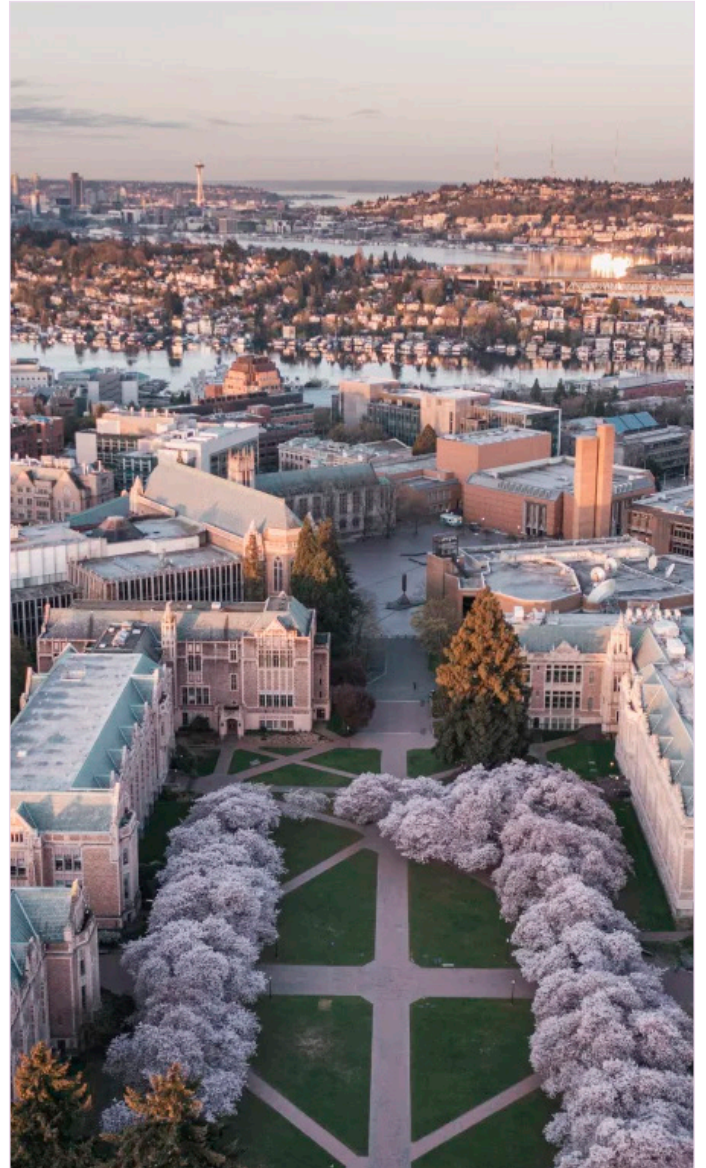

CONFERENCE OVERVIEW

APRIL 4TH-7TH | SEATTLE, WA | UW AIAS

We are delighted to announce that the 2024 American Institute of Architecture Students (AIAS) West Quad Conference is hosted by the University of Washington in Seattle this April. This is a three-day conference centered on our theme and title BLOOM: Emerging Solutions for Urban Sustainability, as well as our three keystones: Innovation and Efficiency, Environmental Responsiveness, and Sustainable Urban Growth.

The conference will welcome a diverse array of architecture students from around the western United States to our city, where they can experience Seattle's commitment to environmental stewardship, visionary attitude, and, of course, award-winning architectural accomplishments. We are pursuing forward-thinking members of our community to inspire the next generation of architects.

ATTENDEES

STATES & PROVINCES

WORKSHOPS, TOURS, & PANELS

SCHEDULE

ATTENDEE PROFILES

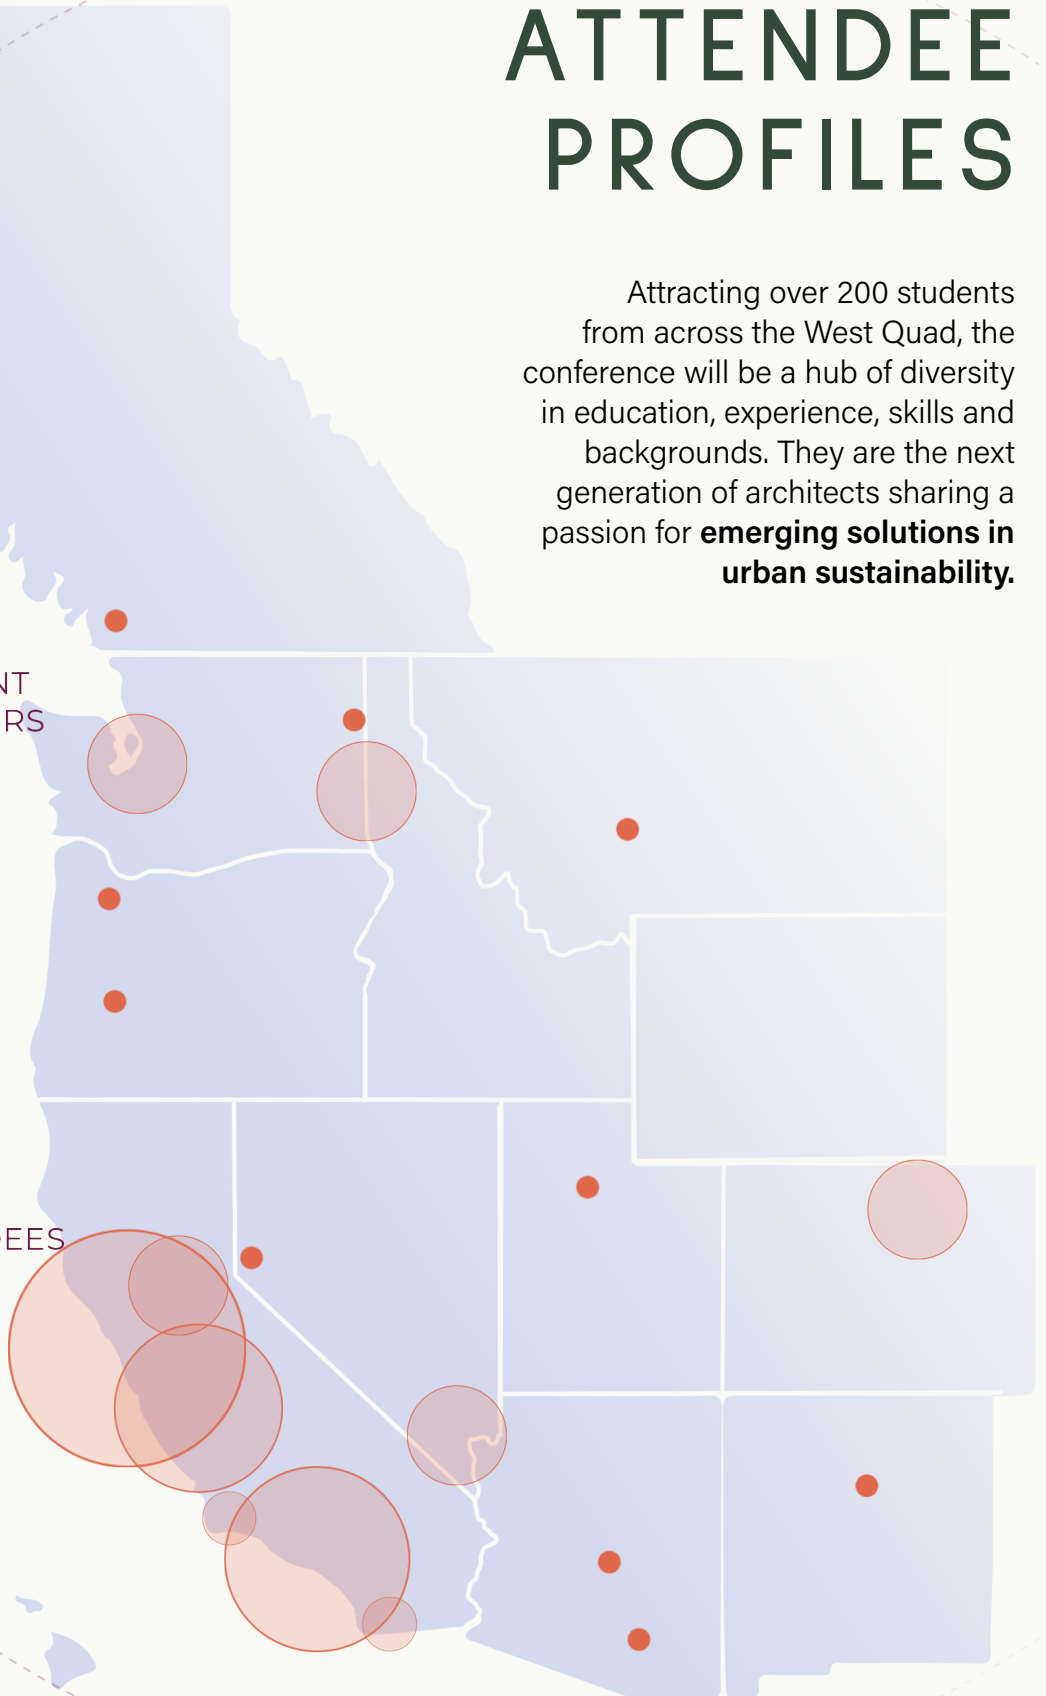

Attracting over 200 students from across the West Quad, the conference will be a hub of diversity in education, experience, skills and backgrounds. They are the next generation of architects sharing a passion for emerging solutions in urban sustainability.

× 55 AIAS CHAPTERS

× 1,500+ STUDENT MEMBERS

× 774 CBE STUDENTS

× 125+ PRIOR ATTENDEES

CONFERENCE CHAIRS

FAITH A. FULLERTON

B.A. Architectural Design - UW '24

Faith A. Fullerton is a senior at the University of Washington pursuing a Bachelor of Arts in Architectural Design with a minor in Environmental Studies. Prior to her election as President of UW AIAS, Faith served diligently within the chapter for two years. She led drawing, software, and portfolio workshops for the CBE Mentorship Program, showcasing exceptional organizational skills and unwavering commitment to the success of fellow aspiring architects. Also playing a vital role in the marketing, fundraising, and additional planning for the 2023 Beaux Arts Ball, Faith contributed remarkably to the event's unprecedented achievement of over 200 attendees.

TREVIN N. THOMPSON

B.S. Architectural Studies - WSU '23

M.Architecture - UW '25

Trevin Thompson is a Masters of Architecture student at the University of Washington and graduate of Washington State University's Bachelor of Science in Architectural Studies. Having begun his involvement with the AIAS in 2018, he has served as a member of two national Committees, the 2022-23 WSU Chapter President, and even as a candidate for West Quad Director. Under his leadership as Chapter President, the chapter saw membership grow over 400 percent, reviving student engagement across the school following the Covid-19 pandemic. Trevin is driven by a passion for service to his peers in preparation for their transition from academia to professional practice.

OUR PARTNERS

We are surrounded by a great number of allies
to ensure a successful weekend of events!

Our AIAS Student-Led
Conference Planning Team

AIAS National Office

University of Washington
College of Built Environments

University of Washington
Department of Architecture

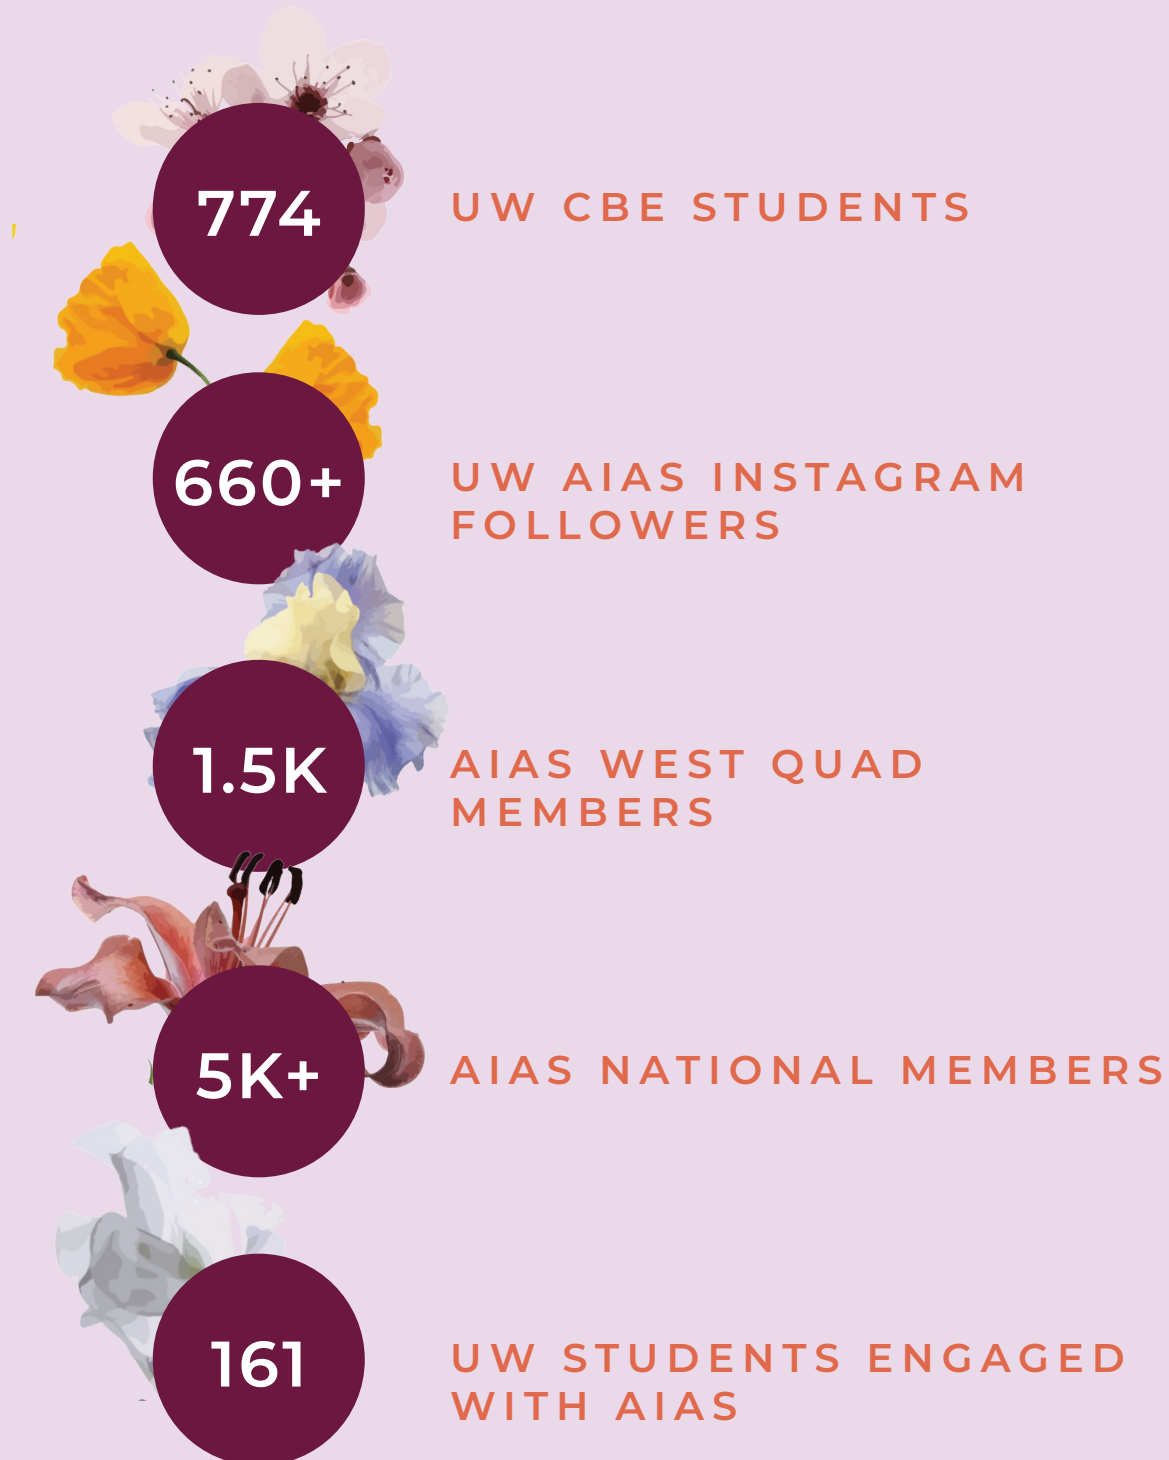

American Institute of Architects
Washington, Seattle

Seattle Architecture Foundation

OUR REACH

Let us connect you to our audience of:

SPONSORSHIP TIERS

CHERRY BLOSSOM: $2,500+

- Prominent recognition on all event-related communications
- Logo placement on all event-related printed materials, graphics, and presentations
- Honorary mention during opening/closing sessions
- Large Career Fair space
- Reserved banquet table at closing keynote/reception

PACIFIC RHODODENDRON: $1,500

- Recognition on all event-related communications
- Logo placement on all event-related printed materials, graphics, & presentations
- Large Career Fair space
- Reserved banquet table at closing keynote/reception

VALLEY TULIP: $1,000

- Recognition on all event-related communications
- Logo placement on all event-related printed materials
- Career Fair space
- 5 closing reception tickets

DAFFODIL: $500

- Recognition on all event-related communications
- Career Fair space
- 3 closing reception tickets

AIAS 2024

BLOOM

SEATTLE

CONTACT US:

UWASHINGTON@AIAS.ORG
FAITHFUL@UW.EDU
TREVINT@UW.EDU

FOR ANY QUESTIONS!